EXPO...Taking You Further

EXPO 2011 Will Provide All The Insights You Need To Keep Up With What's New And What's Next

EXPO brings solutions and technologies for bus and rail public transit together in one event. As the public looks to embrace secure, eco-friendly mobility, urban planners, senior executives, system engineers, maintenance, and operations teams are formulating their ideas to integrate public transit into community development projects and transition current systems into a new era in transportation. And the innovations making these changes possible will all be here on display for you to see and demo &mdash; and buy!

- More than 800 exhibitors covering both bus and rail
- Save time and money...everything you need to see is under one roof!
- Network and make valuable contacts
- Registration is FREE! And, you won't get a better chance to see all the latest transit technologies for another three years!

Be sure to Visit the Alternative Fuels Pavilion Natural Gas Zone On the EXPO Show Floor.

PLUS: EXPO 2011 is putting special emphasis on rail-related products and services covering Light Rail, Heavy Rail, and Commuter Rail.
